THE CHINESE AND NATURALIZATION.

A Chinaman has been naturalized by a New York court. The United States circuit court in San Francisco and the supreme court of California have both decided that under the Burlingame treaty no Chinaman has a right to American citizenship. This double decision is, of course, not binding upon the New York court, and it will be the part of the United States supreme court to decide the matter finally. The sooner that decision is made the better, and we are rather inclined to think it will be in favor of John's naturalization. We are moved to this opinion by a pretty fair knowledge of the sentiment of the people of the East, as shown in their newspapers, upon the Chinese question. The comments of the New York Sun on the case of naturalization under notice well voice that sentiment. The Sun says:

Of course, controversy is likely to be raised respecting the citizenship of Wong Ah Yee, but in the end Judge Larimer's decision, being consonant with common sense, with the spirit of the constitution and with the humanitarian principles of this country, expresses the rule that must stand.

The humanitarian view is the only one the people of the East yet take of the problem. Sentiment, not common sense, is brought to bear on its solution. Charity is a fine thing and a Christian duty, but its indiscriminate exercise here in Reno, for example, would overrun the town with tramps and impoverish the people. Common sense must be brought to bear. To save ourselves from the presence of a vicious and criminal mob of vagabonds, we must now and then decline to give alms. This country is free to all—Americans as well as other folk, however—and Americans are quite right to object to the freedom of an immigration that will eventually deprive themselves of their fair share of the common freedom. Abstractly the Chinaman is a human being and has therefore as much right as anybody to come to America. Concretely the Chinaman is a person who endangers the prosperity, peace and, if naturalized, the very life of the country. If the makers of the constitution contemplated that the rigid application of any of its principles should destroy the country we are much in error. The people of the Pacific Coast know by practical experience the benefits and evils of the presence of a large Chinese population. The people of the East know nothing of the matter and seem singularly indisposed to learn. A decision of the United States supreme court that the Chinese are eligible to citizenship would bring the problem to a head at once and direct the attention of all intelligent men to it. It would soon be understood and the understanding of the question would be a tremendous stride toward its settlement. The Chinese will never vote on this coast, supreme court or no supreme court. As things now stand the people are already very restive under the curse of their blighting presence. Arm them with the ballot and every ballot would be a return ticket to China to every Chinaman.

There is undoubtedly a little cherub which sits up aloft devoting his energies to the matrimonial bedevilment of women who have succeeded in distinguishing themselves in any way. A correspondent of the Philadelphia Times shows that the heroic Ida Lewis has come in for her share of the little cherub's attention:

Wilson was mate on the same schooner when Ida saved him from drowning, and he revenged himself by marrying her, after which he carried her to Black Rock and tried to make her support him in idleness and dissipation. She was too spunky to do this, and soon returned to her mother in Newport. She has no child, unless it be a huge, black Newfoundland dog, who is perfectly devoted to her and accompanies her as a body guard wherever she goes, and, she says, sleeps by her bedside every night.

The powerful scissortail of the Carson Tribune will congratulate himself that he lives in Nevada instead of New Hampshire, when he is informed that in the latter undevoted state the legislature has declared laziness a crime and provided for its punishment.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The San Francisco Golden Era, (which by the way is an unusually bright and entertaining paper) warns sentimental young ladies to have as little as possible to do with handsome and romantic looking males who can't give a good account of themselves. The Era points the moral of its advice by relating the experience of one soulful young female whose adored one actually turned out to be a barber! Awful as this was it might have been worse. Some San Francisco journalists in the neighborhood of the Era office are remarkable for their beauty and romantic air.

The Eureka grand jury kindly report as follows:

In the matter of buying votes at the late election, which was particularly called to our attention by the Hon. court, we have spent a number of days in investigating the same, and have examined a great number of witnesses—between forty and fifty. And while we feel confident in our own minds that great frauds were perpetrated, and the practice of buying votes largely indulged in, we have been unable to draw out sufficient evidence to warrant us in finding any indictment.

If the grand jury had tried very hard and had had the pluck to hit a head when they saw one—no matter how eminently respectable that head might have been—the report would probably have been different.

The telegrams from Bresthitt county, Kentucky, pictures a disgraceful state of affairs. A quarrel between two bands of outlaws has resulted in the capture of Jackson, the county seat, by a mob, which kept the place in a state of terror for a whole week, during which time the county judge and several law-abiding citizens, beside several of the marauders, were killed. No action has been taken by the governor. The presence of a company of blue-coated Yankee hirelings in Jackson would no doubt chafe the proud southern spirit.

The religious journals very generally complain that a majority of people don't go to church. This is true, and for the same reason that the majority of people don't subscribe for religious papers—they're uninteresting, don't say anything new, and close their eyes to the real enemies of antiquated theology, science and the spread of intelligence and consequent mental independence. It is a decided bore to listen to a clergyman hammering away for an hour at a time at a sort of siner that has been dead for fifty years, under the excited conviction that he is laboring over his own living, breathing and thinking self.

W. W. Austin, for nearly three years past connected with the editorial department of the Gold Hill News, has gone to Washington in the capacity of private secretary to Senator Jones. Mr. Austin is a journalist of large experience and great industry and while in Washington will doubtless act as correspondent for some of the leading Eastern dailies.

"It is a dreadful fate to be a mill-lionaire" is the impertinent observation of the Los Angeles Express, which has never been admitted to our confidence and therefore presumes a little too far in offering unsolicited pity.

James E. Anderson, the boss liar of the age, is over in Eureka as the agent of an Eastern clothing house. Eureka ought to have unusual attractions for him.

We shall hear of another uprising of the uncivilizable red devils presently. Indians are being murdered by whites in the vicinity of the Umatilla reservation, two having been found swinging from a tree a few days ago.

Wells Drury is once more on the local staff of the Gold Hill News. Mr. Drury is a good writer and adds vim and humor to the columns of our excellent

When the Council Bluffs, Iowa, people want a thing they go after it in the right way. They are now publishing a daily paper in aid of a projected railroad to St. Louis.

"We," the editor of the Susanville Advocate, seems to have the best time of any man in the trade. Every week his paper contains absorbingly interesting narratives of the circumstances under which during the preceding seven days he got free rides, free meals and free drinks. Life is one grand jamboree with the lucky dog.

The Reno Gazette heaves what it calls the customary sigh over a birth in that village. Why the lament?—Eureka Leader.

Any man who has ever been a baby himself wouldn't ask such an absurd question.

BUTLER ON KEARNEY.

Ben Shows that Dennis is a Treacherous Rascal.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The Sun's Boston special says: Butler recently received a letter from T. C. Gilman, an old political friend, formerly of Massachusetts, now of San Francisco, asking about Kearney. Butler replied: "I know nothing of Kearney. I was informed that he desired to see me upon some question of law in regard to the action of the constitutional convention, of which I understood him to be a member, in relation to the Chinese in California. I assumed that a man from so intelligent and enterprising a city as San Francisco, who was acknowledged to be a successful leader of his party there, and who had been elected to the convention to revise the state constitution, was a proper person for me to show usual courtesy to. If he was not a fit person, as you suggest, for me to call upon, I made the mistake because of the indorsement of the city of San Francisco. I had no other knowledge as to Kearney's worthiness, except the high letters of credit he brought from San Francisco and California by the action of your people."

Butler concludes: "Kearney told me he should organize a laboring man's party in the municipal election for his own purposes. Contemporaneous with that came here the utterance of his secretary, that he had made his speeches purposely incendiary during the state campaign with the intention of defeating me. That, coupled with the fact that near the end of the campaign Kearney was found in the office of the Boston Herald, my most bitter opponent, receiving his mail there, and that the Herald published an article in which he was praised and taken into its favor, and that in the municipal election he was doing exactly what they would wish to have him do, constitute a part of the evidence which seems to point to the conclusion that he has been acting in the interest of my opponents, whether for pay or not they know better than I do. I simply am not, and have not been, responsible for him."

NABOB WHISKEY.

Consumers are referred to the following extract from the report of an eminent Public Analyst:

This is a pure barley and wheat spirit, remarkable in flavor and quality, which imparts a delicate aroma, at the same time greatly increasing its value as a digestive stimulant. The solid residue contains a large amount of tannin, derived from storing in oak casks, which imparts to fine old whiskey one of its valuable individual qualities. The amount of the residue proves the whiskey to be free from the excessive coloring and sweetening so generally used in adulterating. In fact, in two words, it is the PUREST WHISKY, and will not only supply a public want, now that whiskeys are so generally adulterated, but will be of the greatest value to the physician in those numerous cases where pure whiskeys are the most useful of all medicines. CHINESE CITIZENS.

Some Naturalized Mongolians in New York.

New York, Nov. 30.—The Sun

says, in speaking of the recent naturalization of a Chinaman: It is estimated that there are at least five thousand Chinese in this city and Brooklyn.

They are a quiet, patient, hard-working class. Of these there are a few who belong to the aristocracy and educated classes of China, who still retain their prejudice of race.

Accompanying A. P. Sutherland of 90 Centre street, who is the authorized interpreter of the Chinese of this city, a visit was made yesterday to Wung Ah Ling of 20 Mott street, commissioner of the Chinese emigration society of San Francisco, and the acknowledged agent, adviser and friend of his countrymen.

Wung Ah Ling speaks English fluently. He has read an announcement that Wing Ah Yee had been made a citizen, and was indignant at the avowal that he was the first Chinaman to assume this character.

"My cousin, Quong Lee," he said, "was made a citizen in 1873. Two years afterwards he served as a jurymen, and was the first Chinaman that ever acted in that capacity in Europe or America. I was made a citizen in 1876, and could name several of my countrymen who are citizens. Here," Wung Ah Ling added, producing a document from a wallet locked in a drawer and covered with a delicate silk handkerchief, "is my citizen or naturalization paper. I love it greatly, for it is the talisman to a great era in the history of our country." He said that to him it was the most precious document in the world. He would not lose it for a fortune, as it had given him a prestige among his countrymen, which, he proudly remarked, could not be matched. It has been used by him on several occasions in voting. It was used in St. Louis, March 9, 1876. Commissioner Ling spoke with pride of Yung Wing, now the accredited Minister from China, who was made a citizen ten years ago, and who has voted in Connecticut for four years.

Too transparent.

(S. F. Chronicle, Sunday.)

A few days ago a poor devil was sent to the penitentiary for life, from this city, for stealing $5. No flaws were found in his indictment. In the case of Duncan, however, who robbed depositors of hundreds of thousands of dollars, our officials experience painful difficulty in drawing up the papers properly. The game, gentlemen, is altogether too transparent.

FELLOW'S

COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES.

THIS DISCOVERY

Is the result of a series of Scientific Experiments based upon the theory that "for the successful cure of Wasting Diseases, the nervous system must be made vigorous and healthy."

One of the first symptoms of disease affecting either the Liver, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, or Genital Organs, is a loss of nervous power. This is followed by muscular relaxation, weakness, and emaciation of the organs which depend upon them for health or involuntary muscular action, the weaker suffering first.

The inventor, acting upon this idea, that the muscles and nerves depend upon each other for efficient strength and action, and that they must be treated directly in order to speedily and permanently cure diseases of the organs which they control, became convinced, after months of experiment, that no other preparation produced such potent and direct effects upon the nervous system as his

and except in cases of actual organic loss, that it would restore patients suffering from these maladies.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of this remedy are the following:

Chronic Constipation, Chronic Dyspepsia, Asthma, Chronic Bronchitis, Consumption, Chronic Diarrhea, Chronic Laryngitis, Melancholy, Nervous Debility.

Debility, resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diptheritic Prostration, Hysteria, Hypochondria, Nervous Excitability, Paralysis or Wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia or Loss of Voice, Stagnation of the Liver, Interrupted and Painful Action of the Heart, Strabismus caused by muscular weakness of the Lungs and Air Passages leading to emaciation and general debility, Indigestion and habitual Constipation almost always arise from weakness of the muscles and nerves of the stomach and bowels. In such cases, Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has proved itself of the greatest service by inducing healthy peristaltic action of the intestines. The evacuations soon become copious and healthy, without producing the effect of purgative medicine.

Weakness of the Joints and Muscles, Injury of the Blood, and General Debility may be cured by attention to the regular described doses, and by due regard to the habits of life.

FELLOWS' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

The power of arresting diseases displayed by this preparation is honorably acknowledged by the medical faculty in every section where it has been introduced, and the large sale is the best guarantee of the estimation in which it is held by the public.

This syrup will cure PULMONARY CONSUMPTION in the first and second stages, will give great relief and prolong life in the third. It will cure ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LARYNGITIS and COUGHS. It will cure all diseases originating from weakness of MUSCULAR ACTION and NERVOUS FORCE.

Sold by all Druggists.
